Subject: OU Innovation Hub/Lab Update

Good afternoon, Luis!

Thank you so much for your patience. After we got off the phone I immediately went to my boss who quickly got in touch with one of his colleagues at OU Economic Development—the office that works directly with the OU Research Campus where the National Weather Center and Innovation Hub are both located. Our contact over there understands the importance of your event and the urgency associated with it at the moment. She is working diligently to get you in touch with Brandt and/or another point of contact over there. I passed along your contact info to my boss who then forwarded it to her so I expect that she will be in touch with you later today or in the morning (...or if not her then hopefully Brandt or his boss)!

I hope this helps. Call me anytime if anything else comes up.

Thanks, Luis (and Nadtya)!
